We are offering 30 shares for the 2012 growing season at the New Hampshire Farm Museum in Milton. Our CSA runs for 20 weeks from mid-June through the end of October and includes a family membership to the NH Farm Museum. A weekly share contains approximately $25-$35 worth of fresh picked organically grown produce. We focus on heirloom as well as modern varieties of vegetables, and you can count on surprises such as small amounts of berries or flowers which will be included when available. Although we are not yet certified organic, we are planning on making it official this year and we have begun the lengthy process. You may rest assured we use no synthetic fertilizers, herbicides or pesticides in our gardens and no GMO seeds.

Our Farmers: Mark Bascom & Lindsay Fisk

Mark Bascom grew up in Center Harbor, NH on a 19th-century farmstead. He ventured to Montreal, QC to receive a Bachelor's Degree in Environmental Studies and Anthropology from McGill University. Lindsay Fisk grew up in Livingston Manor, NY with a love for nature and the outdoors. She attended St. Lawrence University for a degree in Environmental Science and Biology. In 2007, Mark and Lindsay joined forces to intern at Brook Farm Project in New Paltz, NY; a 5-acre CSA vegetable farm. Since then, they have apprenticed at two other small-scale organic farms. Fishkill Farms, located in Fishkill, NY, was a 12-acre organic vegetable operation nestled within a 300 acre IPM orchard with a focus on production for local farmer's markets. In 2011 they apprenticed at Brookford Farm in Rollinsford, NH. The farm was a diverse organic operation with 40 milking cows, some veal, around 100 pigs, 2500 chickens (both egg laying and broilers), 40 acres of wheat, and a 20 acre vegetable garden. Lindsay worked full time growing vegetables and Mark worked half time in the creamery and half time with the vegetables. The creamery produced raw milk, yogurt, kefir, raw cream, cultured butter, buttermilk, quark, and four other types of cheese. They are very excited for the opportunity to farm at the NH Farm Museum.
